“

Amell and her team provide an excellent solution for a sustainability awareness program, delivering workshops and insights whilst creating a fun atmosphere.

MAINTENANT and their DIVERSITY DECK® card games are an amazing way to introduce the sustainability concepts within companies that are working towards a green mindset.

I had a chance to experience their interesting and captivating courses firsthand and would highly recommend their products and services to any corporations.

I looked through every DIVERSITY DECK® pack and want to say what an epic achievement they are.

To have been able to distil such a range of information into these user friendly, multi-generational cards is really amazing.

It is really harder to say less than to say more and the way everything of importance is given its place and reference point in the different decks is just so impressive.
